How we compile Gold Rates

This page is compiled and reviewed by the Bullion Trend market desk, which publishes indicative precious-metal prices for readers in United States.

Data sources

Gold, silver, platinum, and palladium start from international spot-style USD quotes. Local amounts use the latest available USD exchange rate for USD. Values are cached for performance and may lag the live market by a few minutes.

Methodology

Karat prices scale the 24K (999) spot by purity (for example 22K at 91.667%). Charts show recent session movement in local currency. These are not exchange settlement prices, dealer quotes, or investment advice.
